

Marta Folmeg PhD

Education:

- 2011-2017: PhD in Intercultural linguistics, Eötvös Loránd University (ELTE) Budapest, Hungary
2010-2013: Management and Business Administration, Kodolányi János University (KJU), Budapest, Hungary
2007-2011: BA in Political Science, ELTE, Faculty of Law and Political Science
2004-2009: MA in Hungarian Language and Literature, ELTE, Faculty of Humanities
2005-2009: MA in Applied Linguistics, ELTE, Faculty of Humanities
2005-2009: MA in Teacher training, ELTE, Faculty of Education and Psychology

Career:

- 2020 – until now: Deputy Head of Department, associate professor for Department of International Interdisciplinary Studies, KJU
2016 – 2019: Head of Centre for Research Administration at KJU
2013-2016: Research fellow, Tender Program Director of Development, Tender and Quality Center, KJU
2012 – until now: Teacher in Social Sciences and Education
2010-2013: Educational coordinator of the Társalkodó language exam system, KJU
2009-2010: Dictionary Editing, Tinta Publisher, Hungary
2008-2009: Department Trainee and Demonstrator at ELTE–BTK Hungarian Linguistics, Sociolinguistics and Department of Dialectology
2008-2009: Teaching practice at Radnóti Miklós High School

Lectured the following subjects:

At the Department of International Interdisciplinary Studies:

- Foreign policy and Foreign Office Services in the 21st Century
- Hungarian as a Foreign Language
- Advanced Research and Communication

At the Department of Social Sciences:

- Political science
- Comparative political science
- History and politics then and now
- International politics
- The political system of German-speaking countries
- Foreign policy analyzes
- Hungary and its international environment
- Democracy and responsibility

At the Department of Education:

- Human rights, democratic values, man as a value-conscious being
- Classification, evaluation courses

Scientific works:

- Publications: 25
- Conference presentations: 32
- Organization of conferences: 15
- Proofreading: 6 manuals and monographs
- Thesis supervision for 118 students.
- Contribution to Institutional Quality Development and Accreditation (2013-2017).

- Compilation of History and politics then and now E-Learning curriculum and 2 more updating of E-learning curriculum (Political science; Comparative political science)
- E-learning tutoring of 7 units

Some of my publications:

- Are you direct such indirect? In: Gecső, Tamás; Szabó, Mihály (ed.) Unity and ambiguity in language, Budapest, Hungary: Tinta Publisher, Department of Applied Linguistics, ELTE, (2018) pp. 84–88.
- Exploring the contradiction between gender linguistics and political language use on a language element, In: Gecső, Tamás; Szabó, Mihály (ed.) The language of contrast and nonverbal expression possibilities, Budapest, Hungary: KJU - Tinta Publisher, (2017) pp. 46–52.
- Parliamentary responsibility, In: Folmeg, Márta; Jóri, Anita (ed.) World and language with passion. Greeting volume for Tamás Gecső's 60th birthday, Budapest, Hungary: Tinta Publisher, (2015) pp. 197–202.
- Higher education institutions workplace well-being research, In: Folmeg, Márta; Hervainé, Gyöngyvér Szabó (ed.) Case study on workplace well-being and professionalization, Székesfehérvár, Hungary: KJU (2015) pp. 441–452.
- Hervainé, Szabó Gyöngyvér; Folmeg, Márta (ed.), Social crises and conflicts in the context of welfare, Székesfehérvár, Hungary: KJU (2014), 331 p.
- Relationships between women's political engagement and gender differences in language use, In: Strausz, Péter; Zachar, Péter Krisztián (ed.) History and politics then and now, Budapest, Hungary: Heraldika Publisher, (2013) pp. 269–284.